A DEDICATION...

CHARLES N. DUBOIS

NEVER before, certainly not in recent years, has our campus community been so stunned and saddened as it was on August 14, 1951, when death, instantly and without warning, took from us Charles Nelson DuBois, for fourteen years a member of the Department of English. It was partly because he was still young, only forty-one. And it was partly because he was so upright and outstanding a teacher and man.

At the time of his death he was an associate professor, in charge of the English courses in the Stockbridge School, the University's academic extension program, and registration of students in English. His own course in American Poetry was one of the most popular in the Department. He had recently brought into effective operation a calendar for campus activities. His gifts and services were various and gratefully recognized by all of us.

Moreover, he had been for several years faculty adviser to the INDEX. He had helped plan this book. That it should be dedicated to his memory is therefore pre-eminently fitting.

This is for the record, but what can never be committed to words is the memory of a vibrant, loyal, resourceful, indefatigable associate, respected and loved by all who worked with him, youth's hostage to honor in a troubled world. We miss him sorely, but are proud to have known him.

—FRANK PRENTICE RAND

...IN MEMORIAM

In Memoriam—Arthur N. Julian

Arthur N. Julian, professor of German and Head of the Department, died on August 11, 1951, after a period of failing health. Born in 1885 in Illinois, he did his first teaching at Elgin Academy after graduating from Northwestern University. In 1911, after study and travel in Europe, he came to the University of Massachusetts, becoming Head of the German Department in 1925.

In June of this year he had retired, with the intention of devoting part of his time to a re-examination of ancient Greek literature and language — next to German his favorite study. Death overtook him before he could rightly begin to gratify his wish.

Professor Julian will be remembered by many generations of students for his friendliness and his unselfish attention to the needs especially of those less favored than their fellows. By his friends and associates he will be remembered as a man of integrity and loyalty, by his immediate family for his undiminished devotion to their well-being.

FRED C. ELLERT

Clarence Gordon—In Memoriam

Scientist, naturalist, lover of the great outdoors, Clarence Gordon was, as student, alumnus and teacher, a personage on the campus of his Alma Mater for considerably more than half his life. Graduating in 1901 after an undergraduate career of leadership and recalled to join the teaching staff following a period of graduate study and teaching in other institutions, he had much in knowledge, experience and personality to offer his students. Distinguished among his associates, he headed the science faculty for eighteen years.

Though professionally a geologist, he had an inherent interest in plant life; his private garden was a repository of cherished favorites gleaned in field and fishing excursions which were often made in rare companionship with a fellow naturalist.

A man of sterling character, scholarly attainment, deeply committed to things worthwhile, loyal in friendship, his was a pattern of high accomplishment and exemplary living.

A. VINCENT OSMUN

IN MEMORIAM
GUY CHESTER CRAMPTON

Doctor Guy Chester Crampton, distinguished insect morphologist, was born in Mobile, Alabama, September 21, 1881. He died of a heart attack in Albany, New York, on October 31, 1951.

Doctor Crampton received the A.B. degree from Princeton; A.M. from Cornell and Harvard; and Ph.D. from the University of Berlin. He was a member of several entomological societies in America and abroad, and of the leading honorary societies in American universities. Other details of his life and work are given in American Men of Science and in Who's Who in America.

Doctor Crampton came to the College in the spring of 1911, retiring in 1947. He was a much-loved teacher, and undoubtedly most of the entomologists whom he trained — and they may be numbered in the hundreds — best remember the friendly and informal discussions with their professor, not in the lecture rooms but more especially in the laboratories and after classes. To be associated with a man of Doctor Crampton's philosophy and culture was in itself an education, and unquestionably many of his former students now holding high positions throughout the nation and abroad owe much of their present success to the influence of this great teacher.

Always Doctor Crampton was most generous of his time and wealth, and in his passing leaves a host of friends who owe him an unrepayable debt.

CHARLES P. ALEXANDER

WALTER EVERETT PRINCE

On December 22, 1951, the University was saddened by the death of Professor Walter E. Prince, member of the Department of English for thirty-seven years before his retirement in 1949. Mr. Prince was born in 1881, attended school in Webster, and then took both a B.A. and an M.A. degree at Brown. In 1912 he began his long and highly successful career at the University.

He was known affectionately to several college generations as "Bull" Prince and was the sort of man about whom legends naturally circulated. For years his familiar voice boomed and echoed through the classrooms and corridors; sometimes it was a roar of indignation directed at an absurdity in contemporary literature (he liked nothing but the best in the great classics) or at a hapless freshman guilty of passing in a careless theme; but the indignation generally turned into a roar of laughter — laughter "not of the face and diaphragm only, but of the whole man from head to heel."

In his eighteenth century courses he would alternately assume the manner and mood of a Dean Swift or a Dr. Johnson, two of his favorites. He had an abiding love of the theater and taught Elizabethan drama with a truly Elizabethan enthusiasm. He was justly proud of having introduced the study of American Literature into the curriculum, and for years students crowded into his American courses in such number that only an auditorium could accommodate the enrollment.

While other memories recede into the past, Walter Prince's rugged character will remain with us as sharply outlined as ever in years to come. We remember him as a robust American, an enemy of hypocrisy, a lover of courage, talent, and integrity when he met with them in any human being.

DEAN'S OFFICE

Alumni Office

GEORGE E. EMERY, Executive Secretary, Associate Alumni, University Field Secretary.

The Alumni Office exists as the general information center for University graduates wherever they may be. The Office keeps a file on all alumni and maintains data on the doings and whereabouts of graduates.

The Office publishes the Alumni Bulletin, indispensable organ of information both to and from alumni.

The Office, under Mr. Emery, is the direct tie between present and past U of M students. And the present benefits directly from the past, for the Associate Alumni body has established itself as one of the most devoted and helpful alumni bodies in the country. Alumni contributions to the physical campus — dorms, a gym, Memorial Hall — as well as other important services concerned with proper development of the University attest to the effectiveness of the organized alumni effort.

The Graduate School

The Graduate School of the University this year embarked on a policy of expansion under its new Dean, Professor Woodside. Though just now coming into prominence in almost all studies offered by the University, the Graduate School is by no means a new institution. Graduate courses leading to the degree of Doctor of Science were offered in botany under President Clark and in chemistry under Professor Goessman as early as 1876. It was not until 1892, under President Henry H. Goodell, that courses leading to the degree of Master of Science were offered. This degree was first conferred in June, 1896, on two candidates. Graduate courses leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy were first offered in 1897, with chemistry, botany and entomology as major and minor subjects. The first degree was conferred on one candidate in June, 1902.

In the early years the graduate work was conducted under the direct administration of the President in conjunction with the undergraduate program. The demand for advanced work increased, however, and in June, 1908, the trustees made the Graduate School a separate unit.

Today courses are available leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, Master of Science, Master of Arts, Master of Landscape Architecture, Master of Science in Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering.

Professors Retiring

ROBERT DORMAN HAWLEY

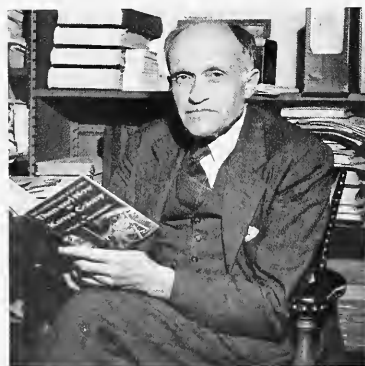

Treasurer of the University

For many years the University's chancellor of exchequer — competent, zealous, always acting in the best interests of school, community, and Commonwealth — Mr. Hawley's tenure in office has been in the best tradition of enlightened public service.

WILLIAM GOULD VINAL

Professor of Nature Education

Knowledge of the great outdoors, knowledge of men, and the knowledge of how to promote the education of man through the resources of nature: these will be missed as much as "Cap'n" Bill himself.

BASIL BOISE WOOD

Librarian of the University

Scholar, bibliophile, administrator: this familiar figure has become a campus institution. His dedication to duty, his devotion to the cause of scholarship have not gone unappreciated. The University loses a faithful, unstinting servant.

YEAR IN REVIEW

A year of crises...the world scene uncertain, charged with pressures...and we, in a sense, recipients...taught by events...that passed in review as our year progressed...Chinese Communists launching their drive in Korea...the United States testing A-bombs in the Nevada desert...Truman relieving MacArthur of command...controversy, but steady heads prevailing...though one of the steadiest, Senator Vandenberg, champion of unity, passes away...a hope for peace, but a hope dubious, evanescent...Russia's Jacob Malik proposes a cease-fire between belligerents in Korea...then inflamed nationalism...the Anglo-Egyptian treaty denounced by Cairo...the British told to leave Suez...but the world contests forgotten for a time as the contest of bat versus ball ensues...and the hapless Giants fall before the Yankee sluggers 4-2...then — reality again...the East's moderates, who could possibly stem the angry tide of nationalist sentiment, die by assassins' weapons...in the "interests" of nationalism Iran and Pakistan lose statesmen...the political scene here in the States takes on shape and content...Senator Robert A. Taft announces himself ready — to accept the G.O.P. nomination for the Presidency...and in England — politics too, while a monarch is ailing...a heated campaign for power...and the Tories, under the indomitable Churchill, return as guides of England's destiny — and time of troubles...a Princess visits the United States...and so does a soldier named Eisenhower...the nation is rife with conjecture — what do Truman and Ike talk about?...the question stands, for a time at least...the Atlantic Pact nations come closer together, in mutual defense, as foreign ministers meet in Rome...more hopes for peace in Korea...a provisional cease-fire line agreed on...then the endless talk again...the momentous publication of the list of Allied prisoners in Communist hands...and some American families find Christmas a time of greatest joy, their loved ones safe...the matter of the four American fliers, ransomed from Hungary, incensing America...Stassen becomes a Republican candidate for the Presidency...and Governor Warren throws his topper in...but biggest news comes from Senator Lodge who says that he can commit General Eisenhower as the third G.O.P. candidate...the Democrats are not far behind...Kefauver, corruption-exposer extraordinary, talks with Truman...then announces his candidacy for the Big Job...Truman stays silent...the issues — big ones: corruption, foreign affairs, government control...and in England a beloved King passes quietly away...and Queen Elizabeth II begins her reign, at 25...

A year of crises

And here on campus we kept up on events...and sought interpretations and guidance...Dr. Boas, just returned from England, talked about the British...the U.N. Trusteeship Council sent Dr. Wieschoff to tell us about United Nations Today...later came young Representative Kennedy...and Vera Micheles Dean...many of us wanted to know...the times ahead would be uncertain...yet campus life must go on too...and so we worked...and we played.

Now that April's here... the week for competing Greeks... songs, skits, speeches... and then the ball... Psyche and Cupids whirling to the strains of Eberle... more prosaic matters... the formidable Selective Service College

Qualification tests... separation of the sheep from the goats... worries forgotten with the mass grass of Spring Day... studies more burdensome... profs less understanding... libe lawn mushrooming with people... spring fever...

MAY 1951

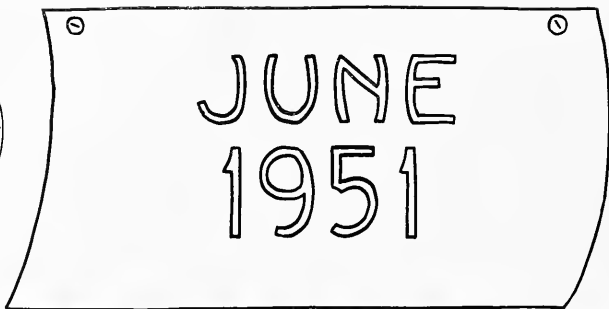

Maytime...the campus bursting with greenness...dazzling sunshine and the smell of lilacs... contemplatives on the libe lawn ...lazy afternoons at Green Pond ...picnics at the Rifle Range... the view from Sugarloaf... Parents' Weekend...music drifting down from The Tower...the Naiads' aqua-ballet...Liliom... On review before lovely Colonel Hartley...the officers of tomorrow...with tomorrow coming all too soon... Finals...studying among the fragrant pink and white clouds of the orchard...

SEPTEMBER 1951

September...with a touch of lingering summer...and the breath of coming fall...bewildered but eager freshmen, one thousand and forty strong, wandering over the campus...upperclassmen — veterans of college life...returning to the familiar...but sadness in return...then registration, bookstore turmoil...C-store hours...last year's juniors becoming campus leaders...the beginning of a college year...a chance to start anew...undone by gold and scarlet afternoons under falling foliage...

INDEX

The project: a book, 300 pages long, to provide fit material with which proudly to bore one's children and grandchildren. So — the editors plunge into the future and begin to conjecture about what stuff might provoke some alma maternal nostalgia in the latter days of the Class of '52 — and provide innocent reading for the young.

Immediately grandiose ideas burst forth: picture layouts loom; art possibilities teem; lines of text crystallize. We're off!

Ah, but at our back we hear the quiet but insistent voice of prudence: dear editors, all this is fine, but who is going to pay for all these filigrees?... We are undone.

Well, let's do it soberly then. The grind begins. Page 1, page 2, page 3... and in between there's toil, and sweat, and a few tears (furtive of course) — with only, in ruination of this rhetoric, the blood missing.

Then—March, and the book done. The editors, strangers to books and classes, wish merely to graduate—with the class they've memorialized.

During the past year, those who have wandered into the Quarterly office in Memorial Hall (mistaking it for a broom closet), have encountered a lean, hard-eyed group of young men and women in the midst of furious debate: vile epithets, cacophonous catcalls, and stentorian slander drown out Stravinski, two doors away. From this chaos, however, comes one of the few really creative efforts on campus, the Quarterly.

The Quarterly is a magazine written by and for the student body. While once confined mainly to English majors, the publication has of late included members of many other departments.

"As student critics," ran one editorial, "we select the best art made available to us by the student body. We are continually making way for more democratic participation in the organization, and we are trying to present a more popular variety of art."

week, which contained all the news fit to print, were successfully produced throughout the year.

Special competitions were held for freshman women, and a capable group of reporters was recruited from them.

The business board functioned actively and brought in enough revenue through oceans of ads to enable the paper to be published.

With the aid of the Publishing Board, matters of policy were decided maturely and effectively.

A precedent was set when the Collegian took a stand on campus politics by editorially favoring one of the candidates for the office of the Student Senate presidency. Because it was the first time that the Collegian had ever announced its partisanship in such a matter, much consternation and interest was aroused. When the matter was resolved, the Collegian reverted to routine coverage of news and enjoyed another successful season.

COLLEGIAN

The Handbook is an annual statistical and information publication distributed to the entire student body. It is available to faculty members and housemothers. The Handbook staff is chosen through competition conducted by already-existing Handbook members. The editor is chosen by members and upon the recommendation of the faculty advisor, Miss Horrigan. The editorial board consists of members who cover the various phases of student life included in the Handbook.

Meetings are called by the Editor-in-chief as he or the faculty advisor deems necessary. The editor also distributes various assignments to the Handbook staff members. Work for the following year's publication begins early in the first semester to assure complete coverage of student life.

The Business Advisor, Professor Lawrence Dickinson, approves payments and provides a budget for the editor to follow.

The Handbook is very highly rated in its class of publication and many schools have requested copies for models.

*. . . Musical organizations

The Dance Band, advised by the Music Department's Joseph Contino, is a budding organization interested in making Lombardo-like strains for campus dances.

The Band plays from many standard arrangements but keeps up to date on current instrumental arrangements. Glenn Miller's work is a constant source, though the Band has Ray Forkey to do some original arranging for it.

Sessions are held in Mem Hall Auditorium each week, two-and-a-half hours at a stretch, Beethoven taking a back seat for a while as the instrumentalists emulate Flanagan, Sammy Kaye, et al.

This year the Band played at the dance given for Delta Sigma Chi's inception, with other engagements scheduled for the latter part of the year.

Behind the scenes Technical Director Howie Galley, Production Secretary Ann Morrill, and Scene Shop Director Nancy Gilley worked collectively to produce what the audiences saw as near-Broadway-style techniques.

Months of rehearsal...

Following up on last year's smash success with Brigadoon, the Operetta Guild selected Sigmund Romberg's The Student Prince for the 1951-52 season's production. The show was revamped by Doric Alviani and Bob McCartney to give it the flavor of the new trend in the musical theatre — the musical play. Bob Boland's versatile theatre talents paid off again, his Bowker night after night as last year's attendance record was shattered: all were thrilled by the near-professional performance of the U of M group. The high standard set by Brigadoon was fulfilled this year by the Prince which added considerably to the precedent. Doric Alviani's stellar direction deserves immense credit.

▲ The Savoyards are the Gilbert and Sullivan Society of the University. The organization is open to all students interested in the Gilbert and Sullivan tradition. After their performance of H. M. S. Pinafore in the spring of 1950, the Savoyards disbanded for one year, but by popular request they were reinstated in the fall of 1951. The organization this year produced a novel evening's entertainment entitled An Evening with Gilbert and Sullivan, consisting of great scenes from four full-length operettas, including the whole of Trial By Jury. As the organization expands in scope and in musical ability, it plans to present to the campus one complete production a year. ▲

Led by a buckskin-clad Metawampe, the Marching Band jazzes down the field of every home football game and at two tilts away.

A couple of blasts on the tuba, a r-r-roollll of the drums, a beauteous blare from the trumpets — then hut! two! hut! two! — and they're off — right down the field.

And even MacNamara hasn't anything on this combo, whose flat notes are mighty scarce.

The band — and soloist

The Concert Band, under the able direction of Joseph Contino, started its work at the conclusion of the fall athletic season and the dissolution of the marching band. The group, composed of more than fifty pieces, gave a series of concerts both on and off campus. A select group of performers took part in the Operetta Guild production of The Student Prince. Rehearsing once a week, the group busily made plans for bigger and better concerts in the future.

This year, under the co-managership of Jim Patterson and Dot Swift, these songsters initiated a new rating system of acceptance, based upon range, potential dynamics, character of vocal tone and ability to sing without assistance, all this designed to produce optimum performance. The merit gained by the system was justified in the Chorale's many concerts.

The Chorale appeared this year for the third time on the Monsanto Hour's Songs from New England Colleges, over the Mutual Broadcasting System. The Group also sang on a nation-wide radio show over Mutual. The major campus appearances of the Chorale this year were with the Operetta Guild in The Student Prince and the ballet, Story of a Princess (danced by Mary Lowry and Bob Boland).

The Chorale as usual travelled this year, making its first extended tour between semesters and another in the spring taking them to New York, Worcester and Boston.

Roister Doisters — U of M's thespian group — started the University's dramatic season with the production of Moss Hart's satire on theatre people Light Up the Sky. Two veterans of Roister Doister shows, Bob Boland and Mary Lowry, took the leads, those of aesthetic director and temperamental star working in a drama by a tyro playwright. Marino Grimaldi and Marguerite Tallett, two newcomers to the Bowker stage, handled the respective parts of cigar-chewing "angel" of the play and his wife with complete stage competence.

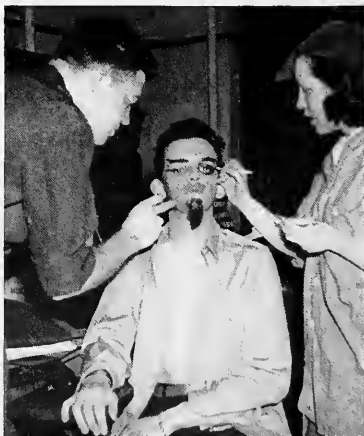

Others who made their debut in the Hart offering were Ralph Hall, Carole Cassidy, Dick Stromgren, and Ray Kennan, with veterans Mario Bruni, Phil Johnson, and Mel Tucker also supporting. The capable direction of Professor Niedeck resulted in the best of notices for the Roisterers.

Interclass Plays came next. Jean Parker was general supervisor of the class offerings. The result: an enjoyable evening in which the sophomores, directed by Dick Cantor, won first place with The Flattering Word by George Kelley, with Dick Stromgren coping the evening's Best Actor award. Bettina Hollis, starring in the junior play, was Best Actress.

Eastward in Eden, Dorothy Gardner's dramatization of Emily Dickinson's life, was the Roi-Doi's spring production.

The Student Senate, the major student-government body on campus, conducts weekly meetings at which student problems in every phase of campus life are aired. The business of the Senate is conducted by standing committees on curriculum, activities, public relations, student life, buildings and grounds, elections, finance, athletics, boarding halls, and constitution. The senators, approximately one for every ninety students, are elected in the fall of each academic year. Two representatives come from each dormitory, four from the commuting group, two from the sororities, five from the fraternities, and one from the married-students' dorms.

The new leaders of campus affairs this year were elected in October. When votes were cast by the Solons for election of the president (Bob Pehrson or Art Alintuck) and the vice-president (Cliff Audette or Henry Walters), a tie resulted in both cases. As the campus buzzed with opinion, for the first time in campus history the Collegian took a definite editorial stand on a student-politics issue by coming out for Pehrson. The ensuing Senate meeting (attended by a huge, interested student audience) began with a spirited hour-long discussion of the merits of the competing politicians and ended with the election of Pehrson and Audette. Mary Granfield and Dale Humphriss were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

STUDENT SENATE

Class elections were conducted under the direction of Henry Walters. As an aid to a faculty committee headed by Dr. Allen, the Senate sponsored the collection of funds and signatures in the Crusade for Freedom drive. The Men's Affairs Committee elected Joseph Lucier, Allan Wakstein, Joseph Phillips, Donald Clifford, and John Heintz to the Men's Judiciary Board. Other Senate activities included the backing of the publication of the U of M calendar, the building of more cement walks on campus, a blood drive, a minute of silent prayer throughout campus on the World Day of Prayer in February, and Spring Day.

In many respects the Senate failed to accomplish many of its expressed purposes during the first semester, but this weakness was attributed to faulty committee setups. The fault realized, measures were taken to improve the management of campus business. Things went along better during second semester.

In an effort to provide a better insight into the workings of the Senate and to inform the student body of the many phases of campus life with which the Senate deals, the Collegian sponsored a series of articles about the governing body. Written by Jack Heintz, a member of the Senate, these articles presented a clearer picture of the duties, problems, organization, and potential worth of the Senate to the students.

The Academic Activities Board is composed of the business managers of all campus organizations which receive student-tax funds. Under the guidance of Professor Rand, the Board apportions the money collected in the Student Activities Fund and generally guides its use.

The Board also nominates those students who by their extracurricular services on campus merit recognition at Senior Convocation, such recognition coming in the form of silver, gold, and diamond-chip medals.

Comprising representatives from the student body and the faculty, the SLC works towards maintaining a wholesome balance between social and academic life on campus.

An important event for the Committee this year was its appearance before a 'Trustees' committee to further plans for a Student Union. And earlier the SLC prepared a booklet defining decorum and policy at social functions for use of chaperons and social chairmen. Student-faculty cooperation on the committee was complete and effective.

WOMEN'S JUDICIARY

Motte, Meader
Anderson, Hareovitz, Sullivan

The Student Government Constitution of the University of Massachusetts is the basis for the Women's Judiciary Board. It is the job of the board to interpret and enforce all rules and regulations concerning women students on campus which are outside the jurisdiction of the women's dormitories.

There are five members on the board elected by the women students. In cases requiring constitutional interpretation, the Women's Judiciary holds a joint session with the Men's division.

The Men's Division of the General Court of Justice is a judiciary body concerned primarily with the conduct of men students. It functions to interpret and enforce the rules and regulations governing men students and jointly with the Women's Division on problems of general student regulations. It determines disciplinary action in cases of infringement of dormitory rules which cannot be handled by the house councils, and in a separate court it handles traffic violations.

Business Administration Club

The Business Administration Club, one of the newer clubs on campus, is a corporate body meeting on a monthly fiscal basis. Successful former bus. ad. majors make reports to the Club; trends in present business situations are assayed; public relations are fostered. And the dues are such as seldom to contribute to insolvency.

Bacteriology and Public Health Club

The Bacteriology and Public Health Club had a successful year with Dave Fucillo as president. The Club held its meetings once a month and at Christmas enjoyed a club party and dance. On other occasions movies and speakers provided valuable professional information.

Chem Engineering Club

Lectures, student discussions, movies—these plus refreshments further the cause of flask, retort, and burette. The engineers take field trips whenever they find a chink in their meager spare time; otherwise they are campussed, using the Chem Engineering Club as an outlet for shop-talk.

Dairy Club

The Dairy Club met in conjunction with the Bacteriology and Food Tech Clubs twice a month, Bowditch Lodge being the scene of conclaves. Milk, cream, and ice cream—these provided the stuff out of which many a nourishing discussion was whipped up, with successful dairymen showing the way.

Founded in 1925, the Fernald Entomological Club undertakes to see what's new among the wee invertebrates. Appropriately enough, the Club sponsors two picnics a year — at which, we can be certain, members of the Class Insecta abound. On the more business-like side, the Club publishes The Fernald Yearbook, which records the department's work.

The Geology Club, complemented by the local members of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, a national scientific fraternity, works to promote geology through rock-and-rill trips and monthly meetings, aided and abetted, mineralogically, by Smith, Mount Holyoke, and Amherst College each year.

German Club

The German Club's aim is to gain closer contact with German customs and beliefs as well as to promote opportunities to hear the language spoken. Skits in German were one of the entertaining ways of making contact. Speakers from the surrounding college area helped round out the program.

Mrs. Wilhelm, Pilling, Damon, Burns.

International Club

The International Club is composed of both foreign and American students, and exists as a truly international community on campus. An interchange of cultural experience makes for understanding and effective generation of good-will, two commodities which can be carried back duty-free to members' homes around the world.

Prof. Hill, Boyle, Goldberg

Home Ec Club

Bi-monthly club chats were the mainstay activity of the Home Ec Club, with now and then an outside speaker allowed to get a word in on current fashion trends or opportunities in dietetics, designing, and other allied topics. A pet project this year was the sponsoring of a local girl scout troop.

Land Arch Club

These Frank Lloyd Wrights of lawn-and-shrub can boast one of the most successful professional ranks on campus. Many leaders in the field of landscape overhauling have appeared before this group, which both now and previously has had noteworthy leaders among the membership itself.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club, fulfilling its purpose of encouraging the study of international affairs among members of the college population, not only sponsored student and faculty discussions, but brought to the University UN leaders and other important speakers.

Hill, Fish, Fraser, Cascio.

Math Club

Einstein-ian conviviality prevails at Math Club meetings. Speakers are a staple, as usual, but with a difference: all talk is up in the quadratic realms of symbolic rhetoric. And editorials in the club's paper, The Integrator, abound in controversial alphas, gammas, deltas. The accent is on math plus entertainment.

CLUBS

Nature Guide Club

A Christmas party and a Sugar-ing-off party in the spring are the two events at either end of the year which mark off the activities of the Nature Guide Club. Under the direction of the beloved Cap'n Bill Vinal, the Club met at Bow-ditch Lodge to hear talks on nature guidance — or charming bits of Cap'n Bill's philosophy.

Prof. Johnson, Gove, Feddema.

Outing Club

Providing outdoor recreation via the hike, bike — and even canoe: this is the aim of the Outing Club. A sugaring-off party in the spring polishes off the activities of these intrepid legmen (and women). Two square dances sponsored by the group aid also to keep limbs limber.

Jacob, Wheeler

Olericulture Club

Olericulture Club, which is one of the younger clubs on campus, has already become a well-established campus organization. All students interested in vegetable culture and related fields are eligible for membership. Besides taking part in the annual Horticulture Show, the Olericulture Club sponsors lectures.

Pre-Med Club

One of the most serious and effective of the special interest clubs, the Pre-Med Club presents specialists in the medical field as speakers not only for pre-med majors but for the University at large.

The Club is the clearing-house of information on everything from pediatrics to psychiatry.

Standing: Pratt, Merchant.
Sitting: Freeman, Prof. Vondell, Shoup.

Press Club

The University Press Club was reorganized this year with its membership made up of budding Horace Greeleys including student correspondents, top members of the Collegian, and members of the athletic publicity bureau. The Club is designed for the exchange of ideas in the field of journalism.

Psychology Club

The shade of Sigmund Freud hovers over Psychology Club meetings as these clubbers probe around—in an entertaining, non-academic way of course—amidst the vagaries of human nature. Open-mindedness is maintained, though, and the Freud-geist stands challenged by the newer methods of treatment and research.

Prof. Trippensee, Durkee, Larson, Tibert.

Sociology Club

Another newcomer among the special interests club, the Sociology Club has been founded to form a cohesive leisure-time organization of campus sociology members. The Club received sanction in the middle of the year, but embarked on a successful program for building a strong club.

Rego, Glick, Goldman

Rod and Gun Club

Spirited anglers and gunmen, interested as much in having fun as in learning, comprise the Rod and Gun Club. These Waltons and Nimrods are active outdoors individually and are entertained indoors at meetings by films and speakers from the field of wildlife.

Forestry Club

The annual Horticulture Show is the high spot for members of the Forestry Club. These budding technicians among the tall arbors this year set up a serious exhibit at the Hort Show showing the effects of certain malaises that trees are heir to. Movie meetings take up the rest of the year.

Spanish Club

Brought into being this year, the Spanish Club ambitiously promoted the speaking of the language by members, produced skits and the play Sin Querer, gave a Christmas party — all in the interests of learning both the language and customs of Spanish-speaking countries.

Flavin, Hill, Fish,

Arboriculture Club

Membership in the Arboriculture Club is limited to agriculture majors. At their meetings twice a month they hear tree experts from private companies and from park and forest departments. This year the return of arboriculture alumni helped to let members know what the prospects are.

Student Christian Association

The hard-working, friendly Student Christian Association acquired a new adviser, Dr. Sydney Temple. The Association sponsored weekly coffee hours, conferences, the Freshman Cabin Party, as well as the usual Sunday night confabs. Participation in the Christmas Vesper Service was one of its major events.

Newman Club

The Newman Club is the student organization established under the aegis of the Catholic Church. Each week the group meets; and there is an annual retreat and communion breakfast for Catholic collegians. Brightside orphans were entertained this year by members at a football game and party.

Hillel Foundation

This year the Hillel Foundation programmed Friday evening services, forums, holiday celebrations, dances, movies, and Sunday breakfasts. The Foundation is dedicated to further the cultural and social needs of those of the Jewish faith. Hillel also sponsored classes in Hebrew and philosophy, bringing the Jewish community on campus closer together.

WMUA, campus radio station, which went on the air officially under that name in October of 1950, is a student-operated, student-planned organ of information and entertainment for the campus.

Ensconced in the gabled turret on South College, the station beams out music both popular and classical, sponsors panel discussions, reports the news, maintains request programs for hour-exam shut-ins.

Tryouts for staff assignments at WMUA are held in the fall, with successful auditioners getting air time for the semester provided promptness and quality of work is maintained.

A Policy Board which includes six faculty members and six students sets the rules and regulations under which the station operates as a collegiate enterprise.

In its drive to become an increasingly more effective campus institution, WMUA has furthered its plans for establishing FM facilities by its acquiring an FM transmitter. The transmitter will be put into use as soon as the FCC issues a permit.

Live broadcasts from Skinner, Bowker, the Cage, or the Press Box on Alumni Field are possible via WMUA-laid telephone lines.

SPORTS

With the deepest gratitude for his contributions, we dedicate this sports section to Head Coach Tommy Eck.

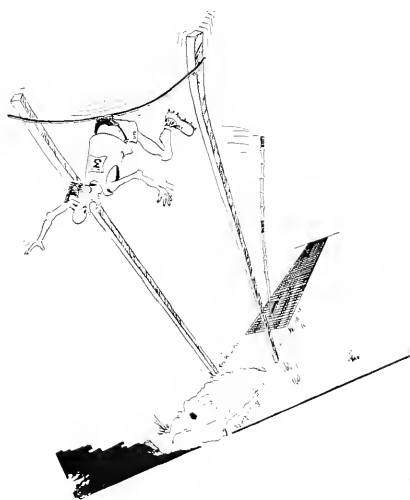

Tommy came to the University as head football coach in 1945. Since then he has contributed all he has to give in behalf of his men.

Few men have the warm human interest in their team that he has had. Few men tried as hard to produce winning teams. The record books are merely harsh pages showing statistical facts. The stories behind the games remain untold.

We are proud to give Tommy this tribute from the University he has served faithfully and well. Wherever Tommy may go, he carries the best wishes of his many University friends with him.

The spring of 1951 looked good for the varsity baseball squad. The return of ten lettermen promised a successful season. And statistically, the Maroon and White nine were on the better end of a 10-8 season's record. This record, however, does not indicate the true showing of the squad.

Outstanding for the Redmen were pitchers Anderson, Kroeck, and Corkum; Captain Lew Baldwin at first; Ray Gunn; Don Smith; and Don Quimby, who received the MVP award.

In their opening game of the season, the Redmen went down to defeat before a strong U Conn nine 13-1. Chet Corkum pitched.

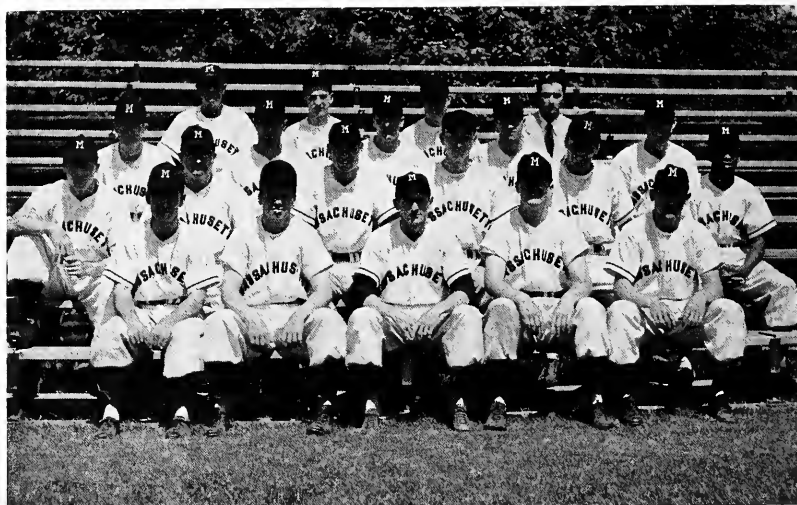

The following afternoon Marty Anderson hurled almost airtight ball as the Lordenmen racked up eleven hits in scalping Norwich 11-2.

Mass nine with a three-run first-inning barrage, but relief hurler Bob Kroeck held the Ephmen to but one more tally while the Redmen amassed six runs to give the Maroon and White a 2-1 record.

A ninth-inning line-drive homer gave Boston College a 2-1 edge over UMass for the Redmen's second loss of the season.

Returning to campus, the Bay Staters were clawed by the Middlebury Panthers 6-2 as wildness on the mound and fielding lapses handed the Redmen their third defeat.

In the next game, Bob Kroeck chalked up his second as the Lordenmen scored a victory over inter-state rival New Hampshire

10-7. Don Quimby paced the Maroon and White attack while a weak infield cost Kroeck most of his runs.

Clark University provided the Lordenmen with their fourth win 14-7 as Chet Corkum finally received some support. Bill Bakey sparked the UM attack with four hits as the Redmen smashed out 17 safeties.

Bob Kroeck, supporting his own cause with a triple and a home run, handed Trinity but one run as the Redmen romped 7-1.

At Pratt Field, Amherst College took a 7-1 decision over Chet Corkum, the Redmen garnering only three hits.

lege with Ed Frydryk fanning seven of the Garnet batters for his first win.

Bob Akerson led the eleven-hit Maroon and White attack with three for five as the Redmen romped against Worcester 11-2.

A single run in the last of the ninth gave the Redmen their eighth win as Chet Corkum led the squad to a 4-3 victory over Vermont.

Facing Wesleyan, Ray Gunn reached on an error, stole second, and scored on two successive fly balls to give Ed Frydryk and the Redmen a 5-4 victory.

Tufts bowed before Chet Corkum 3-2 in an eleven-inning battle that saw pinch-hitter Marty Anderson rap a single to center scoring Don Smith with the winning run to give the Redmen their fifth consecutive win and tenth of the season.

Kroeck took his first loss as the Redman winning streak was finally broken by Rhode Island 7-4.

Northeastern broke out with a three-run burst in the eleventh to edge the Massachusetts nine 10-7 as hurlers Corkum and Kroeck were belted for fifteen hits.

In the first of a two-game series, Springfield edged the Lordenmen 2-1 as Marty Anderson gave up but four hits. The following day, before a capacity Graduation crowd, the Redmen dropped the second game 3-0 as Springfield came to life with three runs in the ninth off Chet Corkum to provide a disappointing close to an otherwise good season.

The varsity tennis team suffered a slight letdown last spring as they compiled a 7-5 record in comparison with the 8-3 record of the previous year. The men that led the team to victory time after time were Phil Dean, Bernie Wis-

Coach Steve

Coach Steve Kosakowski, mentor of the varsity tennis team, has achieved an enviable record in his coaching career. Graduating from Stockbridge in 1940, Steve spent four years in the service before coming to the University in 1947. In his first full year as coach, he brought the first Yankee Conference crown in history to the school. His over-all coaching record in tennis is 20-11 for three years. Coach Kosakowski has never had a team that fell below .500.

Eckmen, however, played a respectable brand of ball but were hampered throughout the season by the weather, injuries, and assorted other factors. The tutelage of Messrs. Eck, Lorden, and Masi seemed completely adequate, but the Maroon and White never got the necessary breaks.

Handing Coach Eck a heartening opening-game win, the Redman eleven topped BATES COLLEGE 21-7 as freshman Ted Piers proved to be the star of the game after returning a kickoff for a brilliant 100-yard touchdown run. Piers accounted for two of the UMass TD's while quarterback Noel Reebenacker took responsibility for the third. Don Smith starred in the point-after-TD department by making all three attempts good. The Massmen out-rushed the Bobcats 11 to 7 in Redmen committed a total of eight fumbles. Charley Redman romped 44 yards to set up the first tally. Then, running plays by Buster DiVincenzo and Captain Jack Benoit brought the touchdown. Next the fighting UMass eleven went down to its second defeat of the year as WILLIAMS COLLEGE took the Homecoming Day game 14-7. The Redmen proved unable to cope with the potent Ephmen's passing attack which ultimately brought the visitors their victory. Williams' Cramer-and-Kulsar combination proved to be the Redmen's nemesis. The lone Maroon and White score came in the final quarter as the Redmen marched 90 yards for the tally.

Against their fourth opponent of the season, the Eckmen ran up their highest score since 1949 as they steamrolled over RHODE ISLAND 40-7. Gigi Howland took the starring role as he ran wild scoring three of his team's touchdowns of the day. DiVincenzo, Reebenacker, and Redman tallied the other three in the midseason massacre. The Bay Staters rolled up an offensive total of 569 yards, the highest of the season.

Undefeated this year and seeking revenge for the loss it suffered to the Redmen last year, a competent NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY club handed the Maroon and White their third defeat 20-7. Fumbles and first-half nervousness cost the Redmen the ball game, the Huskies scoring the first two times they took the ball. Ted Piers averted a possible shut-out by bucking across from the one-yard line in the closing quarter for a tally.

Traveling to Burlington, the Maroon and White arrived and outslushed the UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT Catamounts by a score of 6-0 before a hardy congregation of 200 fans on a snow-swept field. With but five minutes left to play Dick Conway went over for the only score and gave the Redmen their third win.

In their third game, a powerful Holy Cross J.V. team handed the frosh their first setback 19-12. The papooses lost their second straight as they bowed to an impressive Springfield eleven 22-6.

The barriers — heading for the hills

1951 saw the cross-country team forge ahead to a brilliant season, unmarred by defeat in dual competition and highlighted by victories in the Yankee Conference and the Connecticut Valley Championships, in which the Derbymen copped four of the first seven places. Among other notable achievements was ranking sixth in the New England Intercollegiates and nineteenth in the ICAAAA Championships. Sparked by

“Burt” Lancaster, Yankee Conference victor, Captain Halsey Allen, Harry Aldrich, and Hank Knapp, the distance men romped through the regular season, with but a few serious threats to their supremacy, strong competition coming only in the thrilling Northeastern and M.I.T. meets. The M.I.T. meet, last of the season, deserves special attention, as it was this hard-fought victory, paced by Lancaster and Aldrich, that Rounding out the triumphant squad were George Goding, Pio Angelini, George McMullin, Bob Steere, Walt Sargent, and Charlie Stengle. With a star-studded freshman group coming up next year, the picture for the U. of M. hill-and-dalers looks bright indeed.

Captain Prevey . . . charges in!

Despite the outstanding performance of Bill Prevey and the high-spirited play of the entire squad, the varsity basketball team was unable to show more than a 4-17 record for the season. The student body, however, had plenty to cheer about as Prevey broke many of the existing University records and ranked among the top small-college scorers throughout the country.

In the opening contest of the season the Redmen dropped a heartbreaking double overtime thriller to NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY. Bill Prevey, with but ten seconds remaining in regular play, tied the contest with a hoop; but the Huskies went on to win 65-64 on a twenty-five-foot set shot.

BASKETBALL

BOSTON COLLEGE, playing on its home court, topped the Redmen 76-52 as they put on a surge to cut the Massmen's early lead.

The University quintet, playing in nearby Springfield, lost its second contest in three games by a single point, 48-47, as A.I.C. capitalized on a foul shot with seconds remaining in the game.

Despite the individual scoring record set by Bill Prevey, who hooped 33 points, the Redmen were unable to match the PROVIDENCE quintet and suffered a 86-66 setback.

The Massmen, playing their first game since the Christmas recess, staved off a last-ditch rally by CLARK to capture their first win 55-52.

Traveling to Boston, the Bay Staters were unable to make it two straight victories and fell before BOSTON UNIVERSITY 71-63. The University offensive was spark-plugged by MacLeod and Prevey who for a fleeting moment had their team in the lead.

Paced by the offensive scoring of Hank Mosychuk and the rebound work of Bill Stephens, the Redmen were able to cut a half-time 20-point deficit to four points before the TRINITY hilltoppers could stop the drive and take the game 72-63.

Coach Ball cleared the bench before a capacity crowd in the Cage as his quintet defeated W.P. I. 69-42 for its second win of the season. Worcester was no match for the Redmen who took and kept a commanding lead all night.

BASKETBALL

MAINE, the first of the Yankee Conference rivals to meet the Redmen during the season, built up a tremendous halftime lead with uncannily accurate sets and went on to top the Redman quintet 80-59.

NEW HAMPSHIRE took advantage of a third-period scoring lapse on the part of the Redmen to make up a fifteen-point deficit and go on to win 67-58. Prevey broke the two records formerly established for total foul shots converted in a three-year period and conversions within a single season.

Bernie Kaminski, Ed Conceison, and Bill Stephens combined to hit for seven points in the last minutes of play to pull within two points of WILLIAMS COLLEGE and give the Redmen a chance for victory. The Purple, however, kept a point ahead of the Massmen in the final minute of play to win 58-57.

In one of the most thrilling games of the season the AMHERST COLLEGE quintet fought back in the last period of play to overcome the Redmen's lead and steal the ballgame 45-44.

The Redmen proved to be inhospitable as they broke their four-game losing streak by topping the visiting COAST GUARD quintet 65-54 for their third victory of the season.

SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE, with seventeen seconds left on the clock and the Redmen one point in the lead, sent the contest into overtime play on a free throw. The Massmen again took the lead but two quick baskets for Springfield as the game was ending handed the Redmen another loss: 63-60.

On a desperation shot with five seconds left to play Killeen of MIDDLEBURY set from half-court and hit to give his team a 65-63 win over the Massmen.

Although the Massmen hit the strings for more points than any time during the year and Prevey broke his individual high by scoring 39 points, the quintet wasn't able to match a RHODE ISLAND team that trounced them 96-72.

The Ballmen dropped their second straight game to a team from Rhode Island as they went down before a potent BROWN combination 78-64.

The Redmen celebrated "Prevey Night" by whipping TUFTS 70-59. Pre-game ceremonies, here in the Cage, included tributes and gifts to Bill for his sportsmanship and excellent play on the court. Bill expressed his thanks by throwing in 28 points during the contest.

Opening up a three-game Yankee Conference series, the Redmen went down before a strong VERMONT combine 68-61, though Prevey and Kaminski shone for the Redmen.

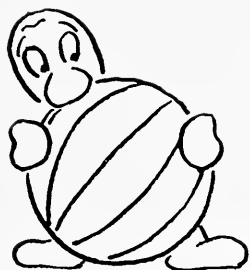

CONNECTICUT clinched the Yankee Conference crown as they toppled the Redmen 78-64. High scorers were Kaminski and Prevey with 17 each, with additional honors going to Conceison for his defensive play.

And in the final tilt of the season the Redmen, plagued by their long siege of bad luck, dropped another contest by one point to NEW HAMPSHIRE: 72-71. The game was sparked by Prevey and Conceison who provided an ambitious UM attack.

BASKETBALL

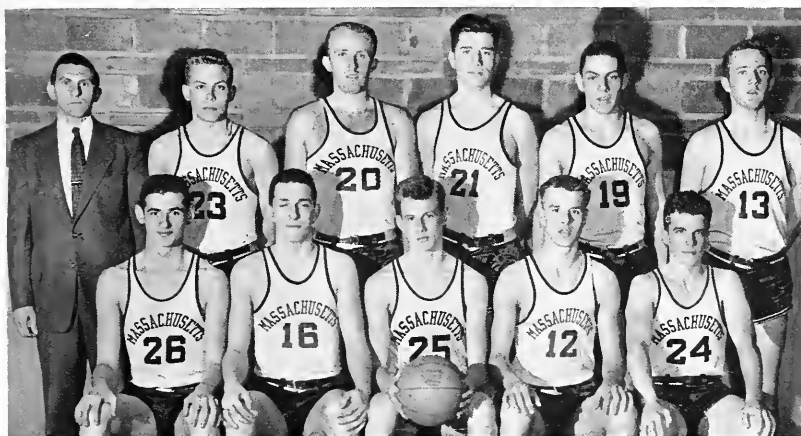

The freshman basketball team had one of its toughest seasons in history as 13 out of 14 contests were dropped. The Little Indians, under the leadership of Captain Howard and Coach George Bush, were never able to match the relay team finished second to Williams in the Knights of Columbus Meet, due, in large part, to Joe Kelsey's powerful anchor leg. High-jumper Russ Briere set a new college record in the YMCA Meet with a leap of 6 feet $\frac{3}{4}$ inches, and freshman Fred Law joined him in the record-breaking class by setting a new University high of 12 feet 2 inches in the B.A.A. pole vault event.

Outstanding in dual competition were Harry Aldrich, who broke the college and cage two-mile record with a time of 9:50 and was undefeated through the season; Joe Kelsey, double victor in the 440 and 880 in three out of five meets; Fred Law, undefeated in the pole vault and a consistent scorer in the 35-yard dash; hurdler Ira Nottenson, with a double win against Worcester Polytech and a victory

The Derbymen might have fared better with greater depth in the field events; still, the over-all picture shows a marked improvement in the University track program.

The varsity swimming team, under the leadership of Coach Joe Rogers, finished the 1951-52 season with the identical record of its previous season, 4-4.

The squad opened its season by narrowly beating a strong Boston University team 39-36. The next two meets saw the Redmen fall before the superior forces of Amherst and Wesleyan, as the depth of the two Little Three members proved too much for the Rogersmen. Returning to the win column, the Mermen rolled up three straight decisive wins over Worcester Tech, Traveling to Boston, the Redmen dropped a heartbreaker to Tufts as the Jumbos took the final relay to clinch the win 38-37. Their final meet of the year again saw the relay decide the meet as Connecticut took the event and the meet.

Outstanding during the season for the Redmen was junior Dick Cornfoot, who set a new University and pool record in the 200-yard backstroke against W.P.I. and then broke his own record in the Connecticut meet while rolling up eight straight wins in dual competition. Other reliables for the Redmen were Mitch Jacque, Art Steigleder, Don Bell, Joe Rogers Jr., Art Belanger, and Ed Sexton.

[Competing in the northern division of the New England College Rifle Group, the University rifle team, coached by T-Sgt. Harry H. Platt, participated in an abbreviated schedule. Captain William Stanley, high man for the Redmen for two consecutive years, led the marksmen in a somewhat discouraging season. Three wins and five losses were the team's record with the greatest performance coming in the post-season Hearst Trophy Match. There, the Armored R.O.T.C. rifle unit fired 912 to break the previous University record of 897.

Competing in the U. S. Revolver Association's intercollegiate matches, the UM varsity pistol team stood high in the nationwide competition. At the end of eight matches the University of Massachusetts has a 4-4 record but ranks eighth among competitors from coast to coast.

Such notables among pistol practitioners as Cornell, Georgia Tech, and the U. S. Naval Academy fell before the UM guns.

Spearheaded by three individual leagues, the intramural softball teams battled it out until the final out of the season.

In League A, Alpha Gamma Rho swamped all opposition to take the fraternity crown, trailed to the wire by SAE.

League B saw Middlesex finish undefeated to beat Alpha Tau Gamma and the Animal Husbandry club for the crown.

In League C, Hamlin House nosed out Mills to cop the crown in a blazing finish.

The first round of the playoffs saw Hamlin emerge victorious over Middlesex 7-4.

The 1951 intramural football season started off in high gear with two leagues in operation.

In League A, Sigma Alpha Epsilon rolled up nine straight wins to take the crown. Right on their heels was Kappa Sigma who dropped but two starts in nine games. Third place found Theta Chi and Alpha Epsilon Pi tied for honors.

In League B, Middlesex upset the apple-cart by beating Berkshire B for the title. In second place was a freshman club from Chadbourne B, closely followed by Berkshire B.

In the playoff, SAE took the intramural crown by defeating Middlesex 18-0.

SAE ranks number one on the score sheet, by a wide margin. Sig Ep and AEPi run close behind with AEPi having the strategic advantage with more matches to play.

With fourteen fraternities competing for the Interfraternity Award, bowling has taken on a new recreational importance on campus, with top-notch bowlers like Frank Sottile and Bob Pollack adding interest.

In League A, Alpha Epsilon Pi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon boasted undefeated slates as they raced towards their final clash for the crown at the end of the season.

In League B, the Independents flourished the only unblemished record in the standings as they appeared to be well on their way to clinching the title.

League C saw the Grads and the Castoffs battling it out for the top spot as they displayed identical records of five wins and no defeats.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

From the fall thru winter and spring, Sig Deltas were active participants in many campus organizations. S.D.T. boasted presidents of the Psychology and Economics Honors Society clubs, members of the Editorial Boards of the Quarterly, INDEX and Collegian, as well as representation on Drill Team, Roister Doisters, Drum Majorettes and Student Life Committee.

Open-house dances throughout the year highlighted many weekends. The major social event was the second annual "Pledge Formal Dinner Dance" at which time the traditional pledge scholarship bracelet was awarded.

ΣK

The Sigma Kappas opened the 1951-52 college year by helping to spur the football team on to victory with their float, which took first place at the Rhode Island game rally. This was followed by a successful Hallowe'en dance at the house. This year again saw Sigmas active in the Scrolls, Isogon, Senate, Chorale, Band, Drill Team, and W.A.A.

The social calendar included a coffee hour for alums on Homecoming Weekend, a Pledge Formal in the spring, and the annual faculty tea.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

Homecoming Weekend this year was a great success with the return of many alumni. During rushing twenty-five freshmen and three upperclassmen were pledged.

The calendar for the social year included the first annual formal, the "Sno-ball," the Military Brawl and the SAEPi semiformal. In interfraternity competition, Pi made its usual good showing in athletics, the Sing, Skits, and snow sculpture.

With its new chapter advisor, Joseph Marcus, Pi will uphold the high status that it has enjoyed in past years among the fraternities on campus.

KAPPA SIGMA

This year Kappa Sigma again proved itself to be one of the leaders in campus activities, the six athletic captains being Kappa Sigs, with sixteen of its members on the varsity football team. Other activities in which Kappa Sigs were active were Maroon Key, Men's Judiciary Board, Senate, I.F.C., Winter Carnival, and Chorale.

Kappa Sig sparked the social season with highly successful formals in the fall Embassy Ball and the Annual Spring Formal. The traditional Memorial Day Clambake was again a welcomed event on the campus calendar.

QTV

This year Q.T.V. participated in all phases of campus life as it has for the past eighty-two years as a fraternity on this campus. Several leaders in campus affairs are included within its membership.

The social activities of the year were highlighted by the traditional Homecoming Dance, the Annual Lawn Party, the White Rose Formal, and the Halloween Party. Again this year, as in the past, Q.T.V. entertained the orphans from Brightside at a very enjoyable Christmas party.

A large pledge class certifies Q.T.V.'s importance on the campus.

SAE, the signet letters of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, have left a favorable impression on a good variety of campus activities. As champions of the fraternity league in intramural football, the men of the Purple and Gold broke a five-year jinx and defeated the dormitory champions. SAE pins were prominent on the members of honorary societies, school publications, varsity sports, and student government organizations.

In keeping with the continuous program of a good balance between studies and socials, informal and formal affairs provided a pleasant break for the brothers.

Versatility in campus activities, high standing in IFC competition, snow sculptures, Mother's Club, Mass Grass, Sadie Hawkins, Bowery Ball, Carnation Ball, Sunday picnics, Mrs. Pease's cooking — these are what Theta Chi brings to mind.

Theta Chi men look forward to Sadie Hawkins with anticipation, for it brings to them one of the most colorful of fraternity dances held on campus, surpassed, perhaps, only by the Bowery Ball.

ZETA ZETA ZETA

The opportunity to occupy its first fraternity house started Zeta Zeta Zeta out on its second year with an enthusiasm which prevailed throughout the year as Tri-Zeta progressed to major fraternity importance. By tripling its membership, Zeta Zeta Zeta gained the strength necessary to compete successfully in interfraternity and campus functions and to promote an increasingly more interesting and varied social life. The year saw the establishment of many precedents and customs which will underlie the future growth of ZZZ.

Tri-Zeta is now regarding affiliation with a national organization.

And dorm life: exuberant as ever

The grand influx of the state's scholars was reasonably well channeled into existing housing units: dorm life thrived.

Baker, the behemoth on the hill, was to have had its grand opening in March — but the building schedule got a bit behind. The dorm would not be opened till September. All the conveniences are promised, however, including a branch of the U-store serving snacks to hilltop residents.

Chadbourne housed male freshmen: its twin, Greenough, freshmen and some sophomores. Butterfield, for the first time in years, sheltered sophomore and junior misses, as well as a few seniors — plus Phi Delta Nu and La Maison Française. Hamlin and Knowlton went female, too. The Abbey, Lewis and Thatcher were women's domain also, the latter two accommodating freshmen only.

Brooks was a male freshman haven, Mills the final campus repository for senior men.

County Circle gave lodging to male collegians as well as married students.

Mountain climbing, as usual, was indulged by the residents of the hill dorms, the men expressing hopes that one day the hill would give a semester's phys ed credit, the women using their well-exercised limbs for Gâté Parisienne exhibitions in Butterfield lounge.

Lewis, Thatcher, the Abbey, and neighbors Hamlin and Knowlton, though blessed by their proximity to Draper, were still looking forward to eating in the new cafeteria, to be built within a few hundred yards of all these houses.

Brooks indulged a dubious form of the old English sport of bowling, Mills (where maturity reigned) intellectualized over pool and ping-pong. And County Circle-ites paused long enough during study hours to inquire: when shall we get sidewalks?

SENIORS

TO THE GRADUATES OF 1952:

THIS YEARBOOK IS PUBLISHED BY YOUR CLASS AS A MEMORIAL TO YOUR YEARS IN COLLEGE. IT COVERS SPLENDIDLY MANY OF THE HIGHLIGHTS, MANY OF THOSE ELEMENTS OF COMMON EXPERIENCE THAT ALL OF YOU WILL WISH TO REVIEW AND RELIVE IN THE YEARS AHEAD.

THE VERY FACT THAT YOU ARE PUBLISHING THIS YEARBOOK BEARS WITNESS TO YOUR RECOGNITION OF THESE COLLEGE YEARS AS YEARS APART, YEARS THAT ARE DIFFERENT, YEARS FRAUGHT WITH SIGNIFICANCE IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF EACH OF YOU AS AN ABLE AND EFFECTIVE INDIVIDUAL. FOR MOST OF YOU THEY HAVE BEEN THE FINAL YEARS OF FORMAL PREPARATION. AT LONG LAST YOU ARE READY TO SEE WHAT YOU CAN DO WITH WHAT YOU KNOW AND WITH THE HABITS AND CHARACTERISTICS OF PERSONALITY WHICH YOU HAVE ACQUIRED AS YOU LEARNED.

FEW MILESTONES IN YOUR LIVES MARK A CHANGE SO DEFINITE AS YOUR GRADUATION FROM COLLEGE. FROM THESE YEARS OF COMPARATIVE TRANQUILITY YOU ARE GOING OUT TO FIND YOUR PLACE IN A CONFUSED WORLD BESET BY SWIFTLY RECURRING CRISES THAT THREATEN THE VERY FRAMEWORK OF CIVILIZATION AS WE KNOW IT. THE FUTURE IS CROWDED WITH UNCERTAINTY AND IT IS EASY TO FALL INTO AN ATTITUDE OF PROFOUND PESSIMISM WHEN GREAT POPULATIONS CANNOT OR WILL NOT VIEW LIFE AND ITS PROBLEMS AS WE SEE THEM.

THIS IS NOT NEW. OUR WAY OF LIFE ALWAYS FACES DISRUPTION. THE FUTURE IS ALWAYS UNCERTAIN. THE "GREATEST THREAT TO SOCIETY" IS ALWAYS THE CURRENT UNSOLVED PROBLEM. WHAT WE CALL CIVILIZATION IS NEVER STATIC BUT CONSTANTLY ON THE MOVE. THE OBVIOUS FACT THAT OVER THE YEARS THAT MOVEMENT HAS DEFINITELY BEEN FORWARD TO MAGNIFICENT ACCOMPLISHMENT ENGENDERS A REASSURING FAITH THAT THE PEOPLE OF THE WORLD WILL SOMEHOW RESOLVE EVEN THE PRESENT CRISES SOMEWHERE SHORT OF DISASTER.

YOUR GENERATION IS BETTER PREPARED, I BELIEVE, THAN ANY PRECEDING GENERATION TO COPE WITH THE DIFFICULTIES THAT LIE AHEAD. THERE IS A GREAT NEED FOR YOUR SERVICES. SOMEWHERE THERE IS A PLACE FOR EACH OF YOU. THE GREATEST OPPORTUNITIES OFTEN COME IN TIMES OF STRESS, AND THE TRUE MEASURE OF YOUR SUCCESS WILL BE YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THE WELFARE OF SOCIETY.

AS YOU GRADUATE FROM THIS UNIVERSITY YOU HAVE OUR UNBOUNDED CONFIDENCE AND YOU CARRY WITH YOU OUR BEST WISHES.

ADELPHIA, SENIOR MEN'S HONORARY SOCIETY, THIS YEAR CARRIED ON ITS TRADITION OF PROMOTING COHESION AND MORALE AMONG THE UNDERGRADS. THE RALLIES IN THE FALL, UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF ADELPHIA IN COOPERATION WITH A SPIRITED STUDENT COMMITTEE, GAVE THE GRID TEAM DRAMATIC ASSURANCE THAT, WIN OR LOSE, THE CAMPUS WAS SOLIDLY BEHIND IT. UNDER THE JOINT SPONSORSHIP OF ADELPHIA AND ISOOGON, THE FLOAT PARADE WAS A DECORATIVE WAY OF SAYING THE SAME THING.

ADELPHIA HONORS NINE JUNIORS AND TEN SENIORS EACH SPRING AT SENIOR CONVOCATION WITH ELECTION TO THE SOCIETY. CANDIDATES ARE JUDGED ON THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS TO UNIVERSITY LIFE.

WHILE ADELPHIA'S CHIEF INTEREST AND PURPOSE LIES IN STIMULATING LEADERSHIP AMONG THE STUDENTS, IT IS ALSO CONCERNED WITH THE LENDING OF AVAILABLE HANDS WHENEVER NEED ARISES. ADELPHIA BROUGHT A GROUP OF ORPHAN-CHILDREN FROM BRIGHTSIDE TO VIEW A GRID CONTEST AND BE ENTERTAINED AT A PARTY FOR THEM. ADELPHIANS SPONSORED ALSO THE TOUR OF HOSPITALS IN THE AREA BY MEMBERS OF THE Campus Varieties troupe.

ADELPHIA AND ISOOGON ARE CURRENTLY WORKING ON A PROJECT TO PROVIDE RECREATIONAL FACILITIES BY DEVELOPMENT OF THE MOUNT TOBY AREA.

ADELPHIA

THE LARGEST GROUP OF SENIORS IN THE PAST FOUR YEARS WAS ELECTED TO ISOGON, THE SENIOR WOMEN'S HONORARY SOCIETY, AT THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PROCESSIONAL IN MAY, 1951. TEN ACTIVE STUDENTS, WORKING WITH THEIR OPPOSITE NUMBER, ADELPHIA, ADDED EFFECTIVE NEW ACTIVITIES TO THEIR AGENDA.

BESIDES USHERING AT CONVOCATIONS, ASSISTING WITH THE PRODUCTION OF Campus Varieties, PLANNING FOOTBALL RALLIES AND THE FLOAT PARADE, ISOGON SUCCESSFULLY MANAGED A NUMBER OF INFORMAL DANCES AT THE DRILL HALL, SET THE FOUNDATION FOR A BULLETIN TO PUBLICIZE THE UNIVERSITY, AND AIDED IN THE FORMATION OF A CAMPUS CABINET, ORGANIZED FOR THE PURPOSE OF BOLSTERING STUDENT MORALE AND RAISING SCHOOL SPIRIT.

A GROUP OF THE MOST ACTIVE WOMEN AT THE UNIVERSITY, ISOGON MEMBERS WERE REPRESENTED IN ALL PHASES OF CAMPUS LIFE. ISOGONIANS WERE MEMBERS OF THE PANHELLENIC COUNCIL, ROISTER DOISTERS, W.A.A., THE Handbook, THE Index, THE Collegian, Quarterly, THE STUDENT SENATE, DRILL TEAM, HOUSE COUNCIL, PHI KAPPA PHI, AND VARIOUS CAMPUS SOCIAL COMMITTEES.

COMPLETION OF Candid U M SAW AN ISOGON DREAM REALIZED. WITH ADELPHIA, THE ISOGONIANS HAVE BEEN PUSHING THIS PROJECT ON SINCE IT BEGAN A FEW YEARS AGO. THE MOVIE OF CAMPUS LIFE WAS SHOWN FOR THE FIRST TIME THIS YEAR.

THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF PHI KAPPA PHI IS ESTABLISHED TO ENCOURAGE SOUND SCHOLARSHIP AND TO EMPHASIZE THE OBLIGATION THAT THE SCHOLAR OWES TO SOCIETY. IT RECOGNIZES SUPERIOR SCHOLASTIC ATTAINMENT AND CHARACTER.

AT THE FALL SCHOLARSHIP DAY CONVOCATION FOURTEEN SENIORS WERE ACCEPTED INTO THE SOCIETY, WITH HARVARD'S DR. HARLOW SHAPLEY GIVING THE PHI KAPPA PHI ADDRESS. PHI KAPPA PHI INITIATES INCLUDED: HALSEY LEONARD ALLEN III, JOHN WILLIAM BENNETT, NANCY ANN BURROWS, EUNICE JOAN DIAMOND, CLIFFORD WILLIAM FALBY, MURIEL DORIS FAUTEUX, MELWYN BENJAMIN FINE, SUMNER HAROLD GOCHBERG, MAE-LOUISE JEZYK, RICHARD LINCOLN LETTIS, CECILIA GENEVIEVE MACHAIEK, EDWARD LEWIS PARSONS, JEAN SANBORN, AND GEORGE ROBERT STEPHENS.

Last spring at the convocation which brought Parents' Weekend to a close, the outstanding women of the campus were recognized for their achievements. It was at this convocation that fifteen members of the freshman class were tapped for Scrolls, the sophomore women's honorary society. These girls are chosen annually on the basis of ability shown in leadership, scholarship, personality, and service. Scrolls are well known on campus by their maroon crew-hats adorned with a white scroll emblem.

Preceding their initiation into Scrolls, elections were held at which President Nancy Allen, Vice-President Frances Jones, and Secretary-Treasurer Marcia Viale were chosen to lead the group.

Formal duties were assumed in the fall of 1951. The first and biggest duty of the Scrolls was the welcoming of freshman women. This consisted of such activities as the Freshman Picnic and Square Dance sponsored jointly with the Maroon Key, help at registration, and guidance of frosh women through their first weeks of college life.

Additionally, the group ushered at various campus functions, aided their parent organization Isogon, helped to bring Dr. Vera Dean to the University, and worked at registration.

SCROLLS

 Missing: M. Taft, J. Buckley, P. Burns, J. Casey, R. Collagan, E. Conceison, M. Jennings, A. Konigsberg, R. Lemay, D. Segal, C. Tilton

The Maroon Key was founded at the University of Massachusetts in 1926 and members are elected each year to the organization in their Freshman year.

Maroon Key members cover many phases of student activity with emphasis placed on the furthering of good-will in athletics. The Maroon Key acts as host to all visiting athletic teams, helps with football rallies, and organizes and carries out the annual rope pull.

Among Maroon Key activities are their participation in Freshman orientation. They act as helpers and general information agents at Registration and during High School Weekend. Early in first semester Maroon Key members instruct Freshman men in traditions and customs of the University. Working jointly with the Scrolls, the Maroon Key organizes and carries out the annual Frosh picnic.

The main objective of the 1951-52 Key-men was to rewrite the constitution in order to make the organization more meaningful than the present one. Through its new constitution, the Maroon Key hopes to make itself self-perpetuating.

The Maroon Key has as its advisor Warren P. McGuirk, Director of Athletics. It is thus possible for the organization to work closely in conjunction with the athletic department.

A Book To Be Treasured . . .

This annual is a permanent record, in picture and prose, of the academic year 1951-1952 at University of Massachusetts. Its value will increase as the years pass, and the quality of the printing will contribute in great measure to its lasting worth.

The Andover Press, Ltd., takes pride in its well-known craftsmanship which, combined with the long hours of careful planning and painstaking editorial work by the INDEX Staff, makes this a book to be treasured.
